Reach Primary School Workshop (Rookys)

Tuesday 4th October

Dear Parents

On Thursday 20th October and Tuesday 15th November some young people from Reach coming to YRPS to conduct workshops. These workshops (Rookys) are an early-intervention approach to support the important middle years, as young people transition from primary to secondary school.

The workshops incorporate fun and creative activities that encourage students to explore themes like bullying and the importance of empathy; understanding and appreciating difference; and the impact of our beliefs on our behaviour.

The workshop outcomes include:

- Improved resilience and self-belief.
- Enhanced emotional and social skills.
- Improved connections with peers.
- The use of positive coping strategies, which can be applied in their lives.

Reach was established in 1994 by Jim Stynes OAM (AFL Brownlow Medalist, youth motivator, and Victorian of the Year 2003) and Australian film director, Paul Currie.

Jim and Paul were two young men who recognised that too often the greatness in young people was hidden behind fear, anger or hurt. Reach was born from a desire to inspire every young person to believe in themselves and get the most out of life.

For more information look at their website: www.reach.org.au

All students are expected to participate.

Please note that no child will be allowed to participate unless a signed permission form has been lodged at the school, phone permission is not acceptable.
